La Crosse Day at the Preston fair was a triumph. It passed off without a discordant feature to mar the pleasure of participants, both guests and hosts.

The dinner given the La Crosse delegates at the Tibbets House was a most satisfactory affair, from which the diners returned to the grounds filled with food and contentment. A pretty feature was a souvenir folder of Preston city views, to which was attached a "Key to the City." There were plenty of capers during the remainder of the day. A brother act in millinery by a mysterious quartet left "Al" Nelson grinning so hard that he was handed the soubriquet "Sunny," and his capricious nature so bubbled with

"Quips and cranks and wanton wiles, Nods and becks and wreathed smiles."

that all the ladies had him spotted for their very own. Some of the other men didn't like the exclusiveness with which Mr. Nelson was lionized, but they had to admit that he had license to look good to everybody.

"Joe" Arenz had a narrow escape. At Rushford a long, lean, cadaverous (that's what they said of the man who served the papers on Rockefeller) looking chap with a double barreled 12-bore muzzle loader got into the train.

"What's the guy that told that funny story last time?" demanded the son of Mars.

Mr. Arenz did not attend the excursion, an dthat's the only reason his laundryman will not be obliged to pick a buckshot from the manly bosom of his holiday shirt.

On the return trip stops were made at Lanesboro, Rushford and Houston. The excursionists went out into the streets at each stop and "cut loose" just to show how keen they were. Kreutz's band, every member of which entered heart and soul into the spirit of the events, and blew his head off when requested, furnished music on all occasions, and withal the return was enjoyable to an immense degree.

The excursion never reached the South side. At North La Crosse the entire party left the train in a body, marching to the carnival, where they spent all the remainder of the evening. They visited all the shows, and marveled at the excellence of the features. It was expressed as the consensus of opinion that the North side business men deserve to be recognized for the energy and enterprise that has brought to La Crosse a carnival of the attractions of which are of the calibre demanded by such great organizations as the Minnesota State fair.

WOMAN'S SKIRTS A MOSQUITO TRAP

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 21.—Chief William Hill, expert mosquito fighter of the Baltimore health department, declares thousands of mosquitoes are brought into the city by women in their skirts. Said he today:

"If there's anything dangerous to be contracted and picked up, lovely woman will get it with her skirts. The city was nearly free of mosquitoes when I discovered that the latest crop of the pests had been brought into town by women who chase about the country fields for daisies and jimson weeds and get their skirts full of mosquitoes."

"One woman with skirts of ordinary fullness can bring into town with her at least 3,000,000 mosquitoes, some alive, others in embryonic state."

SPARTA SITE MEETS WITH MUCH FAVOR

Regular army officers, who are inspecting the proposed artillery range at Sparta, Wis., are impressed with the rolling hills and the natural advantages of the property for which it may be put to use, according to Representative John J. Esch, who has returned from a tramp over the hills in company with the inspectors. Army regulations prevent the inspectors from announcing their decision, but Mr. Esch says all are impressed with the proposed site.

Battery C, of the Third artillery, is holding its annual practice on the property now, while the inspectors are viewing the land with the artillery at work.

Coal Driver Finds Evidence of Frivolity in Most Exclusive of Greek Letter Lodges

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—A sensation has been caused here by the discovery of a coffin in the basement of the lodge of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, the oldest and most exclusive Greek letter society for women in the University of Wisconsin.

The coffin was found by Mike McDonahue, driver of a coal wagon. Among a pile of painted sheets, imitation skulls, etc., used in initiations, were found. The driver got in the wrong door.

The revelation that this sorority uses such methods in initiating new members caused more surprise and comment than if it had been any other sorority, as the Kappa Gamma is considered to be above frivolous things in Greek letter doings.

HUGGINS SUIT FOR $5,000 IS STARTED

The first personal injury damage suit at the fall term of circuit court was called shortly before noon today. Jay D. Huggins, 1126 Vine street, as administrator of the estate of his son, Benjamin Huggins, who was thrown from a car of the La Crosse City Railway company on April 13, 1907, asks damages in the sum of $5,000 for the death of his son.

The accident occurred on Main street between Fifth and Sixth, and was due, the complaint recites, to the unusual speed of the car. When the car struck the short curve, Huggins, who was standing on the rear platform, was thrown to the ground, suffering injuries, which resulted in his death a few days later.

Huggins was 28 years of age and employed as a painter. The plaintiff swears the son contributed a large portion of his earnings to the support of the family.

Attorney A. E. Bleekman, Jr., is counsel for Huggins, while he is assisted by Humphrey D. Barton, of St. Paul, Minn., a specialist in personal injury cases. Woodward & Lees are defending the La Crosse City Railway company in the action. This morning the task of drawing a jury to hear the merits of the action was started.

The Hanson jury was still out at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon.

OPENING FOOTBALL GAME IS ON TODAY

FIRST HALF:
High School, 0;
Third Ward, 5

The first football game of the season is being played at League park and the Third Ward team. The teams are of the La Crosse high school and the Third ward team. The teams are about evenly matched with the High school team a little in favor in regard to weight.

The Third ward team from their splendid work last year has won recognition in this section of the state as one of the fastest if not the fastest amateur team.

The High school team is composed principally of the star players who will play on the regular team at the beginning of their schedule.

The lineup for the teams this afternoon is as follows:

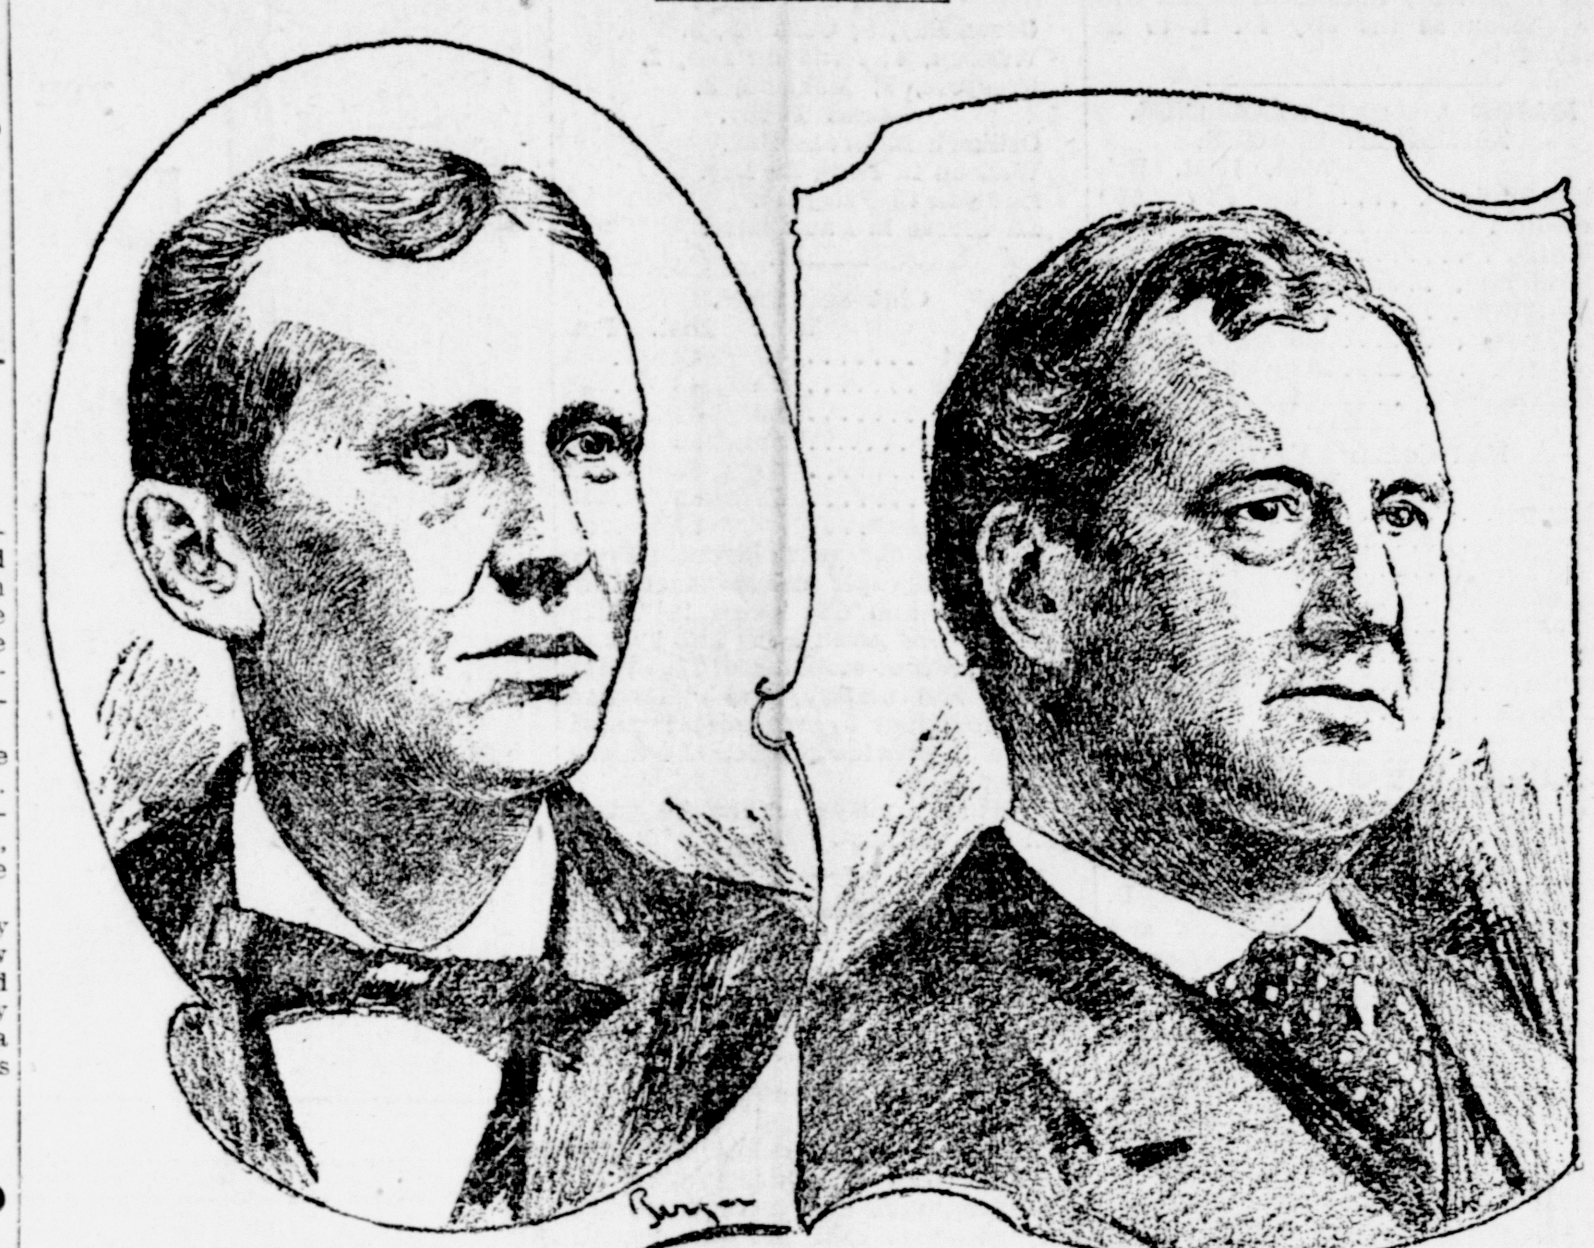

Third Ward. P.O. High School
Keeler C. Brindley
Derr F. E. S. Simpson
Chamberlin R. E. Sidenso
Frank Novak F. E. Shirley
Evans L. G. Stavrum
Voight L. T. Haley
John Haley L. E. Shaw
Casper G. B. Kelley

PENNSYLVANIA WAR WITH W. U. IS OFF

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The war between the Western Union Telegraph company and the Pennsylvania road is ended. Next week the officials of both companies will sign contract permitting the telegraph company to string its wires along its entire system. The war between them involved the cutting down of poles. The Postal's contract east of Pittsburg continues until its expiration. In the meantime the Western Union will string its wires west of Pittsburg.

The man who has fish given him is the only one who feels obliged to believe fish stories.

ROCKEFELLER AND ASSOCIATES MUST FACE FRANK KELLOGG

FRANK D. KELLOGG.

JOHN G. MILBURN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Rockefeller and five other Standard chiefs will probably be witnesses in the hearing to dissolve the oil trust, which suit was started by the government in St. Louis, and concerning which depositions are now being taken in New York.

Special Counsel Frank Kellogg is making a great record in the suit, the evidence adduced during the week now closing having been of a most startling nature. The stupendous earnings of the oil trust, and the admission by Treasurer Tilford that the company has defied the laws, following the judgment of dissolution several years ago, are the important conclusions reached this week. With Moritz Rosenthal, appearing for the oil trust, is John G. Milburn, whose clever efforts have been powerless to stop the relentless probe of Kellogg, and the innermost secrets of Standard Oil are being bared as never before.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21.

(By J. C. Welliver.)
A new method of reaching to the crime of peonage is likely to receive consideration at the hands of congress next winter. Officials of the department of justice, who have been looking into the matter believe that without any complex legislation a great deal can be done by the federal government to break up the abuses, that have been so grossly practiced in some of the southern states.

It appears probable the matter will be called to the attention of the president and that he will ask congress to act, unless he finds that he can take adequate steps through existing legislation.

Information for Immigrants
The plan is simply for the federal government to undertake to give information to immigrants and aliens arriving in this country concerning peonage abuses. It would not be a difficult matter to have agents of

GIVE LOVING CUP TO ESCH

On the banks of the Mississippi at Fountain City, Wis., last Tuesday, Representative John J. Esch was presented with a silver loving cup by the Germania society of Fountain City, and also was serenaded by the brass band as a reward for his address at the Fourth of July exercises.

John Burt made the presentation speech, when Mr. Esch and party returned from an afternoon's fishing trip.

The cup is a massive piece of work, and appropriately engraved. Mr. Esch was taken entirely by surprise by the gift.

BOY PUSHED CROWDS.

John Fumer, a North side boy, was taken to the police station last evening for pushing and shoving in the carnival crowds. He was reprimanded by the police and told to behave better next time.

of The "Interests" to Name

(By Edward L. Keen, chief of Washington Bureau, United Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21.—Herewith is an attempt to reflect the present opinion of the national capital regarding things political—a sort of composite picture from the viewpoint of returning statesmen of both parties.

First, as to Roosevelt. He can have the nomination if he wants it. You couldn't pry out an argument on that point, even in a convention of undesirable citizens. As Batty Logan would say: "If Teddy's in this here event there's nothin' else to it. Get aboard quick. Line up close to the money box and just wait for them to push up his number."

Better Change His Mind.
But does he want it? Now you enter the field of real speculation.

There may be found many persons in these parts, who not only believe that the president has changed his mind since the night of Nov. 8, 1904, when he solemnly declared that he wouldn't again become a candidate, but who would justify him in it.

Among these are some of the president's closest friends, in public life, though they always tack on the statement that they are not speaking by his authority. On the other hand, it would be hard to shy a darnick into a crowd of distinguished republicans without it caroming over a number who feel that the president cannot, in justice to himself, or to the various candidates who have accepted his declarations in good faith, recant at this late hour.

His "Second Elective Term."
Nor is it difficult to find leading men of the party who believe that the anti-third term sentiment would accept President Roosevelt's over-

A CITY BUILDING SERIES

Secretary of American Forestry Association May Also Be One of the Speakers, in New Plan

A course of lectures for the La Crosse Board of Trade, in which William Jennings Bryan may be one of the speakers, is being arranged by A. A. Bentley, secretary of the organization. Other men of note are being secured for talks, which will interest and instruct La Crosse.

The addresses will be given on the regular meeting nights of the board, the first Tuesday of each month. It is believed by the secretary that a larger attendance than usual now can be secured in this manner, while the benefit to be derived also will be of importance.

The first lecture will be given on October 1, when Dr. Henry Roome, government inspector of meats at the Langdon & Boyd Packing company, will speak on "The Necessity of Veterinary Inspection of Dairy Cows." Dr. Roome has consented to take up the subject.

It is expected that the address will lead to an inspection of the milk in La Crosse. The Board of Health may draw up an ordinance and have it presented to the common council for action, and ultimate passage. Dr. Roome's present work, the inspection of cattle slaughtered for market, places him in a position to secure a fund of information. All phases of the subject will be treated in which the injury and benefits will be portrayed.

Thomas E. Will, secretary of the American Forestry association, may be one of the speakers. He has promised to deliver an address here at the November or December meeting, but is unable to say for a certainty whether he will be able to be here on either of these dates. Provided Mr. Will can come he will. He is touring the southern states now, and expects to be in Wisconsin this winter.

The address will deal with the first forestry problem as related to waterways, which will be of interest in La Crosse. Mr. Will has several lantern slides, illustrating the lecture.

Negotiations are now on between Secretary Bentley and Mr. Bryan for his appearance in the city during the winter. As yet no date has been arranged.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NAMES OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the local Christian Endeavor Union was held last evening at the Caledonia street Methodist church. Miss Bertha Hoefke, former president, presiding.

The program consisted of addresses by Rev. Grant, president of the Wisconsin Christian Endeavor Union, Rev. D. H. Rohrabach, and Miss Bertha Hoefke. Miss Inez Mumpford and Mrs. Webster gave several vocal selections which was followed by a social hour and refreshment served by the North La Crosse Presbyterian church.

The banner for attendance was awarded to the First Presbyterian Endeavor society and the following officers were elected.

President—Rev. D. H. Rohrabach.
Vice Pres.—Miss Mattie Wartinebe.
Sec.—Mr. Homer Davis.

Treas.—Mr. George Marvin.

PIONEER OF WEST SALEM DIES TODAY

E. Stilson, aged 72, a pioneer of West Salem, died at his home today of the infirmities of old age. He leaves a widow and three sons, Charles, Leroy and Willis in the state of Washington, and one daughter, Mrs. Quiggle of West Salem. The funeral arrangements will not be settled until his sons in the west have been heard from.

OIL HEADS WILL TESTIFY IN SUIT

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Rockefeller and five other Standard chiefs will probably be witnesses in the hearing to dissolve the oil trust, which suit was started by the government in St. Louis, and depositions are now being taken in New York.

COURT ENJOINS RATE

ST. PAUL, Sept. 21.—Judge William Lochren of the United States Circuit court late yesterday afternoon, in a lengthy opinion delivered from the bench, granted this request of the complaining stockholders of the railroads operating in Minnesota that a temporary injunction issue against the commodity rates enacted by the last state legislature.

IDAHO SENATOR ACCUSED OF LAND GRAFTING

GOV. STEUNENBERG WAS IN IT

Statement is Made That Dead Governor and Borah Joined Political Control to Craft

BOISE, Sept. 21.—United States Senator Borah today outlined his defense at the coming trial of the land frauds case in which he is accused of land grafting. He will make no effort to claim that he is immune from prosecution on the ground that the statute of limitations was run against the charge, but will deny the charge and go to trial on the merits of the case. It is now said that the late Governor Steunenberg's name will be brought into the trial on the ground he was indicted with Borah under the name of "John Doe." Borah is authority for this.

The government will attempt to show, it is alleged, that Steunenberg was the ringleader of the democratic land manipulators, while Borah was the chief republican conspirator. Thus State's District Attorney Rueck is in a peculiar position.

Borah's friends claim Rueck started the prosecutions in the land cases as a political move. Rueck was a republican and friend of Senator Heyburn, who is said to be pleased with the prosecutions.

INJURED YEOMAN AT RUSHFORD HOME

INJURED... .xen. the...
Yeoman Orley Taglund of the United States battleship Georgia, one of those injured during the explosion of 100 pounds of powder on the ship near Boston, July 15, stopped at La Crosse for a short time yesterday while enroute from the Chelsea hospital at Boston to Rushford, where he will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olaus Taglund.

The catastrophe in which he was injured occurred during target practice when a case of powder of 100 pounds exploded and killed eight and wounded 13.

Mr. Taglund's injuries consisted mostly of burns about the hands and body and his case was said at the time to be critical, but after the accident he was removed to the Chelsea hospital at Boston, where the best medical aid was given the injured. Mr. Taglund left the hospital a week ago and came direct to his home in Rushford.

He is now entirely well, but the burns on his hands and body left their mark.

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 21.—President Chas. F. Moll, of the Wisconsin State league, who was in this city yesterday meeting with M. H. Sexton and J. E. Justice of the Iowa league, to arrange for the championship series to be played by the pennant winners of the two organizations, says he does not believe Freeport will be in the State league circuit next season.

"The associations over the circuit are very indignant over the manner in which Freeport fans, directors and players, treated La Crosse in the first game of the series this week," he states. "This feeling is so strong that I do not believe there is any doubt but what the town will be thrown out of the circuit next year."
"It was an outrageous attack, to say the least. I happened to be present at the time and witnessed the entire proceedings. It was all my life was worth to take any hand in the matter. I fully expected to receive rough treatment when I suspended Warhop for the season.

"The president of the club did not participate in the riot, that I know, but other officers of the association
did."

Mr. Moll expects to see the Wisconsin champions triumph over the Iowa league champs in the coming series. He says that the pitchers of his league are by far the stronger of the two organizations, and this pitching will win out.

A six game series will be played.
In the event that the teams break
even on the six games another game will be played on neutral ground, and it is likely that Rock Island will be chosen as the city for it to be played in.

RICHEST YOUNG MAN A WRECK

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—John D.
Rockefeller, Jr., 34 years old and the wealthiest man in the world of his age, has succumbed to overwork and is now bordering on complete breakdown from nervous dyspepsia, such as forced the retirement of the elder Rockefeller a dozen years ago and compelled the latter to be content with a bread and water diet.

The fact of young Mr. Rockefeller's condition became known simultaneously with the public announcement that he would no longer be the leader of the Young Men's Biblical class of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, which was made famous by magic of the Rockefeller name.

Young millionaire admits his ill health in the letter of resignation sent to the bible class. In part
he says:

"This seems a fitting time for your leader to step aside from the position which he has so long occupied and make way for some other man better fitted for the work than he,
and capable of giving to it the large amount of time which it requires and which he has for some time been unable to give."

YORKERS STARE AT
PRAIRIE SCHOOONERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—A team of oxen drawing a "prairie schooner," the driver of which was a rugged looking old man, who wore typical western garb, including a sombrero, attracted great crowds on Broadway.
The vehicle and the driver were not only in striking contrast with the jam of automobiles and carriages on the "Great White Way," but they were a decided novelty in New York.
The driver was Ezra Meeker, a pioneer of the Oregon trail, who had returned over the trail he followed to the west, half a century ago.

All along Riverside, from Grant's tomb to Seventy-second street, Meeker was followed by an interested and curious throng.

When Broadway was reached the crowd was so dense that the oxen, which the half old man afterward described as "Dave" and "Dandy," had a hard time to make any headway. Meeker's trip ended at last at the Battery. He had come all the way from Puyallup, Wash., to New York in 626 days. Meeker's object in making his unique journey is to persuade the government to build a national highway from east to west.

the order of Pythian Knights in Wisconsin has just been started by R.
S. Witte, grand chancellor of Wisconsin, and law partner of former Mayor Rose of this city. Delinquency, he finds, is the reason for most losses, and he suggests that none be suspended for this reason, except circumstances make it necessary for the good of the order.

AS TO FREEPORT.

There has been much upon which to comment, in the State league situation during the week now gone, but nothing more interesting has developed than Freeport's threat to "withdraw" from the Wisconsin league.

This has been Freeport's attitude toward the Wisconsin league since its organization; to grab a pennant and "withdraw" from the league.

If Freeport played in hard luck, she threatened to withdraw from the league; if toward the end of a season the games were close, then all of the Wisconsin clubs were working against Freeport, and she would "withdraw" from the league.

It may have been a mistake in the first place to permit an Illinois city to enter a Wisconsin league. This

Liang Tung Yen

The new Chinese minister to the United States, Sir. Liang Tung Yen is an old friend of Americans having been partially educated at Yale university where he was very popular and was considered an excellent tennis player. He was at Yale in the late seventies and early eighties and was a fine mathematician. When called home by the Chinese government he was made private secretary to Viceroy Chang and grew up in power with the authorities until he was made Collector of Customs at Tientsin. He played an important part in putting down the Boxer revolution in China. He succeeded Sir. Robert Hart as collector of national customs in China.

feeling was bound to exist. The ideal period of the "Brotherhood of Man" has not yet been reached.

Freeport has acted so shamelessly during the past week that it is doubtful if any of the other league cities would regret if she carried out her oft-repeated threat to withdraw. President Mott of the league believes she will not have an opportunity to carry out the threat but will be ousted.

However, to give the "devil his due"—the expression seems appropriate in this instance—Freeport is a good baseball town in many ways and would be a loss to the Badger organization. Freeport fans are the kind who attend games; they cheer on their players; they take up collections to reward them for good work, and they show their true baseball spirit in many ways, but they have no balance wheel. They make it too strong, and so strong that their actions cannot be tolerated by other clubs.

If Freeport could be put in a straight jacket for a time, it might tame the baseball element to reasonable conduct.

Freeport newspapers claim every town in the league wishes Freeport might lose, and perhaps this is true, but if it is because of the rough-neck rowdism practiced upon visiting teams, and not because Freeport is an Illinois town.

Freeport fans should be gentlemanly, and no one could have a kick against Freeport—unless they were to kick on her paying more than the salary limit.

SPOTLIGHTS

Welch and Earl, the popular singing comedians at the Bijou this week known as the "Two in White," are making a distinct hit. Their songs are catchy and up to date. You should see them. Wightman, the clay artist, is one of the best seen here in his line and his work is very interesting.

"The Sweetest Girl in Dixie," which will be the attraction at the La Crosse theater tonight, is under the personal direction of Jess B. Fulton, who plays Howard Emery, the man from the North, and is conceded by press and public where they have appeared to be an organization of superior artistic merit, having at its head so charming an actress as Enid Jackson, who wins the hearts of all in her role of "Babbie," the self-sacrificing daughter of the southern Colonel. There are few plays in the English language which possess the element of heart interest and awaken the sympathy for human suffering as does "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie." The play has a beautiful love story running through it that appeals to all classes. Its influence never ceases to be felt. The company carries its own special scenery and properties, and a perfect production is assured.

Forget-Me-Not.

Who has not heard of this great play, made famous by Miss Rose Coghlan? A story of Parisian life, dealing with the great gambling dens. A play of the Camille type, yet the story is pure; there is not an immoral or suggestive line in it, and the whole leaves a good moral impression on the mind.

Will be played at La Crosse theatre by Maxim & Sights this week.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING IN U. S.

(Outing Magazine.)

Organized climbing in America started along the broadest lines. Though the early clubs of New England followed the first popular interest in alpinism, roused in the sixties by attempts on the Matterhorn and by the London Alpine club, they sprang more from the nature loving tradition of the Concord writers. Most proved stillborn, until the Appalachian Mountain club came to life in Boston in 1876.

The Sierra club of San Francisco has sprung up on the Pacific coast, more lately the Mazamas of Portland, Oregon, and the old Rocky Mountain club has been revived, while the latest ambitions of American climbers are represented by the American Alpine club, founded in Philadelphia in 1902.

FASHION HINTS

(By May Manton.)

5781 Seven Gored Skirt, 22 to 30 waist.

To be Made in Round or Walking Length.

Present fashions in skirts are exceedingly graceful and attractive and allow a wide range of length. Wise women will not go on the streets with those sufficiently long to mean discomfort, but every variation, from the skirt that just escapes the floor to the one that is five inches from it, is allowed. Here is a model that can be adopted both to street wear and to home use as it can be made either in walking length or the graceful round one that a little more than touches at the back. As illustrated it is made of taffeta batiste, in a very lovely shade of biscuit, and is trimmed with folds of the material and stitched with belding silk. It is appropriate, however, both for the very light materials of indoor wear and for all the fashionable suitings, and its trimming can be bands of the same or of contrasting material, or braid can be used in place of the bands, or the skirt can be left plain finished with a stitched hem only. In any case the long, graceful lines remain and the tucks provide abundant and becoming fullness.

The skirt is made with seven gores and is laid in three tucks at each seam, those at the back meeting at the centre, where the closing is made invisibly. The folds are arranged at specified distances from the lower edge, whichever length of skirt is chosen.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 9 1/2 yards 27, 5 1/2 yards 44 or 5 yards 52 inches wide with 1 1/2 yards 27, 3/4 yard 44 or 1/2 yard 52 inches wide additional for folds.

The pattern 5781 is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inch waist measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of the cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

OF HUMAN INTEREST

I can hardly imagine what people are thinking of to drag little children to crowded places tonight. I mean little shavers two, three or four years old or babies in arms. A close inspection will reveal the fact that the very persons who enjoy it the least and render the most strenuous kick are the poor hapless youngsters themselves.

My heart fairly ached over at the carnival one night this week to see the number of little ones that were forced to "see the sights" when all they wanted was to be tucked in their little beds. I know sometimes people are placed in a position where they can't go—or think they can't—unless they take their children with them, but it seems to me almost any sort of an arrangement would be better than some of the women make. One woman I noticed had six with her—three in a buggy, and three clinging to her and she was forcing her way through the densest part of the crowd.

Some little things were fast asleep with their heads on their mother's shoulders—a dead weight in her arms, and she looking fagged to death—but then she was at the carnival and I suppose that was what she "aimed at." Then I saw one rather funny incident at the "Minutary City" which everyone seemed to throng to—the crowd was awful and a little boy of about 4 was squeezed almost to pieces, and as he was too big to be carried he was having a pretty hard time of it.

Finally the manager saw him starting to cry and he (his sympathy enlisted as mine was) reached out and pulled him inside the brass rail, telling him he could walk inside. Well that was just too lovely for anything for " Ike"—he immediately made a dive for some of the pretty little buildings, street cars, policemen, etc., when with one fell swoop the manager landed upon him and the poor little fellow found himself outside in the seething crowd once more.

No, I can't see that it is any pleasure to the parents or justice to the children to take them abroad evenings when their proper environment is bed for that is where we all want to be when the "sand man" comes.

THE TRIBUNE STORY

Phillipa's Simple Life

(BY C. D'ARCY MACKAY.)

"And so you are going in for it in dead earnest, rusticity, breakfast foods and all?" teased Keith Hilliard, smiling as he spoke, for Phillipa Ramsay, in the role of reformer, was a person to conjure with. She wore an air of finality that Keith had never seen before, and in her dark eyes was the gleam of an unalterable purpose. The box of chocolates that he had brought her remained untouched on a table near by—a silent witness of Phillipa's change of heart.

Even her house dress had a touch of earnestness. The trailing, shimmering gowns that had always seemed part and parcel of her personality were replaced by gray homespun. Her hair was drawn back smoothly from her brow and coiled low on the back of her neck. Most significant of all—from beneath the edge of her skirt peeped forth a pair of slippers with low heels.

"Life," said Phillipa seriously, "is altogether demoralized. We spend too much time over fuss and feathers. We are hampered by all this—a wave of the hand included the unobtrusive luxury of the Ramsay drawing room, its books and pictures and rosiely shaded lamps. "If we had just the simple necessities and no more, think how quietly and sanely we should live. From this time on I am done with the frills of existence. And tomorrow I leave for the mountain camp where I shall spend the summer with half a dozen people who share the same point of view."

Hilliard's lips twitched a little. "Isn't this rather—rather sudden?" he queried.

"It's none the less sincere," returned Phillipa spiritedly.

"And that means you are done with the city and the things of the city forever?"

"Forever!" echoed Phillipa solemnly. "Oh, Keith, think how beautiful it is going to be! Dawn and sunset and storm and a glimpse of the stars through the open tent flap! And to sit around a blazing fire and eat the things prepared with our own hands!"

"And where do I come in in this new and splendid scheme? Am I never to see you again, or am I to subsist on letters?"

"If you would only join our colony!" Phillipa glowed with enthusiasm. "Mr. and Mrs. Marsden and Richard Fenwick and—"

"It sounds alluring, but meantime what would become of my clients?" "You could give up the law altogether," said Phillipa serenely, "and become a woodsman."

"This is only June. Perhaps I'll run up two months later," said Hilliard, lingering over his goodby.

"Do!" urged Phillipa, apparently unaware of the look he bent on her, for her eyes had the faroff gaze of one who was seeing visions.

It was a clear morning on the 1st of August that Hilliard walked briskly down the slope leading from the Hillcrest hotel to the lake and bathhouse below. On one side stretched the velvet expanse of the golf course, where a chattering group were starting an early game; on the other was the tennis court, the rackets of the players flashing in the sun. Sounds of "Fifteen love!" reached Hilliard as he stepped into the launch that was waiting at the bathhouse landing. He gave his directions and then settled back on the cushioned seat.

Camp Idle Ease was five miles away, at the other end of the lake, a place rendered secluded by reason of its rocky approach, which required the coolness and precision of a well trained boatman. The launch flashed through the water at full speed, but not fast enough to suit Hilliard's impatience. It was weeks since he had had more from Phillipa than a hasty postal card, and his blood raced at the thought of seeing her. As the launch neared the landing, steered in and out between the moss green bowlders, he scanned the shore for a glimpse of her. Some one in a gray walking skirt was stooping over a smoldering fire. She raised her head. It was Phillipa.

"Oh, Keith," she cried, "you've come at last!"

The hand she held out to him was brown and hard. The mark of a burn ran from wrist to elbow. She was worn and thin, and a tiny frown showed between her brows. On the ground lay a pile of pots and pans and what seemed to be the charred remains of a day's baking. But Hilliard tactfully ignored the signs. He chatted of mutual acquaintances, of all that had transpired since he and Phillipa had last met. It was only when he mentioned that he was stopping at the Hillcrest hotel that Phillipa paused to refer to her present mode of life.

"It's beautiful!" she declared in a tone that held more of challenge than of comment.

"Sure!" he agreed heartily. "The air is simply great! But where are the others?" he asked, with a glance at the seemingly deserted camp.

"Oh, two have gone for a walk and one to pick flowers, and two are writers and have a place where they work farther up in the woods."

"And one does the dishwashing and baking and tends the fire," said Hilliard, with a keen glance.

Phillipa flushed.

"To each his portion," she quoted. "And to some a triple portion. Apparently this is one of those camps where there is one worker and five shirkers."

"If you came here to criticize"—began Phillipa.

"Far be it from me," said Hilliard hastily. "By the way, the day after tomorrow we're having a hop at the hotel. It promises to be quite an event."

"I suppose there are a lot of girls there," said Phillipa, bending to stir the fire.

"Stunners!" cried Hilliard, with enthusiasm. "Well, goodbye, Phillipa. I'm awfully glad you're so happy, and I'll see you soon again."

"Won't you stay for luncheon?" urged Phillipa in a tone which implied that he had better not.

"Thanks, no. I've got to get back. Sky looks as if we might have a bit of a squall, doesn't it? All prepared?"

"We can take care of ourselves, I think," said Phillipa, with dignity.

Hilliard's weather prophecy came true with a rapidity and violence that kept the guests at Hillcrest housed for two days. "The squall," as Hilliard expressed it, "settled into a good long cry," with the rain coming down in torrents and never clearing till the night of the dance, when Hilliard set off in a sailboat to see Phillipa.

When he reached Camp Idle Ease it was all in darkness, with every evidence that its occupants had retired for the night. The sagging canvas of the tents was sodden and blown awry, the campfire was a dreary smolder of damp wood and ashes, and as Hilliard stepped gropingly forward the ground oozed and sozzled underfoot. Suddenly from some place on his right came the sound of a muffled sob, and, peering through the blackness, he saw a huddled figure on the rustic bench the camp possessed. There was no mistaking that dark head bowed on the circled arms.

"Phillipa!" cried Hilliard. She raised a startled, wet wet face. "I thought you were at the—the hop," she quavered, her voice failing and breaking on the last word.

"Without you? Not much!"

"But those other girls"—Phillipa's tones were still muffled.

"Girls!" For a moment Hilliard was utterly bewildered. Then a light broke in on him. He laughed outright.

"Why, Phillipa, surely you know there never was and never will be any one else but you! As for the hotel—your aunt and uncle are waiting there for you now. And they've brought your trunks—all of them. I thought," he went on, "that if you knew how much it meant to me you'd change your mind and come. You're not angry with me, are you?" he added as Phillipa turned away her head.

Phillipa's voice held something strangely like a sob.

"Angry! Oh, Keith, before you came tonight I was the most miserable girl in the whole wide world! I find the simple life isn't what I planned at all. I'm tired and sick and disgusted. Somehow the brunt of it seems to come on me. All day long I work, and at night I dream of greasy dishes to be washed, and a kettle that won't boil, and tents that let in the rain, and—"

"There, dear, I know. But remember it's over and done with. And it's getting late, and your aunt will be anxious, so hadn't you better run and tell those other campers that you're coming with me?"

A few moments later Hilliard's sailboat was skimming in the direction of the Hillcrest. Phillipa sat in the stern.

"When a woman," she mused, "has to choose between a mode of life and the man she loves, it doesn't take her very long to make up her mind. Rusticity and simplicity may be all very well, but felicity is best, after all!"

BUY A BASE BURNER WHICH WILL GIVE 1/3 More Heat With 1/3 Less Fuel

It is possible for you to obtain a stove that will do this, and save more than its cost in fuel during the time it is operated. Stove buyers cannot afford to neglect investigating the features which make it feasible for to accomplish such wonderful results and we invite everyone to call and let us explain the reasons. Note sectional view. See how cold air is taken from the floor and heated by the central triangular Double Heating Flue which utilizes heat that ordinarily escapes up the chimney flue. Note exceptionally large area of effective radiating surface, also the position and size of firepot and grate and remember that in addition to all this, the heat from the firepot is forced to go down one large back flue to the base, entirely around it and up a second large flue before escaping. Study this plan of construction and you can partially understand why no other stoves will give such great heat with so little fuel.

Jewel Stoves are not an experiment; they have been made and sold for several years and their remarkable efficiency has made them the largest selling base burners manufactured.

EXTREMELY LOW PRICES.

We are offering these stoves at prices no higher than are asked for those which do not possess such exceptional fuel saving and heat producing features.

BADGER FARMERS MAY REORGANIZE

ACTION IS TAKEN AT MEETING AT LADYSMITH

PROMOTE COUNTY INTERESTS

Chairman Maxey Expresses Opinion That Great Good was Accomplished

WASHBURN, Wis., Sept. 21.—If the action decided upon at the meeting of the North Wisconsin Farmers' association held at Ladysmith last week be carried to fulfillment, reorganization on a new basis, under a new system, new management and possibly a new name, will perpetuate the spirit and work, and steps to this effect are to be taken at once and when ready for presentation will be presented at another meeting to be held at Hayward in the near future.

Chairman D. M. Maxey of the executive committee, who returned to his home here Tuesday, expressed much confidence in the result of the conference and the continuation of the good work in effecting the settlement of Northern Wisconsin with a desirable class of farmers and others who are adding to the wealth and resources of the whole commonwealth by putting the new lands under cultivation.

The plan in view is to effect organization in each county for promotion of the interests of that particular county as provided by the new state immigration law and to effect a union of these organizations, to keep the "Grassland" car on the road and in other ways continue the work that the association started some few years ago. Mr. Malony of Rusk county has been employed as an organizer to get the counties comprising the association in line, and he has begun the work with a view to getting the car out as promptly next fall as possible.

The legislature recently provided for the appointment of a commissioner of immigration and this position was awarded to A. D. Campbell of Ladysmith. The law on the subject stipulates that each county may form its own association for the purpose of promoting immigration and then appropriate money for its aid, and it is along these lines that the North Wisconsin Farmers' association proposes to work in future.

SHERIE CALLS ON OUTLAW JOHN DIETZ

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Sept. 21.—Mayor Sherburn Becker of Milwaukee yesterday afternoon in company with Dr. E. E. Nusse of this city left in the latter's automobile on a trip to visit John F. Dietz at Cameron dam.

The mayor was equipped with heavy walking boots, sweater, and a heavy suit. He carried with him an abundance of magazine for Dietz and also fishing tackle, as he desired to fish in the famous Thornapple river. He lamented the fact that he had no hunting license and therefore will not do any hunting.

Mayor Becker just as he left said that he was entirely unarmed, as he believed this to be the safest way to go for a person who wanted a peaceable talk with Dietz.

When he arrived here he made inquiries about Dietz and whether it was true that the Mississippi River Logging company had made settlement with him as reported in the press, being told this was untrue and having become thoroughly acquainted with the state's side of the case, he determined to visit Dietz and learn from his own lips his side.

DIES AT AGE OF 104

KAUKAUNA, Wis., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The story of Alexander Rolley, who died recently at Green Bay, as told by a pioneer here, is one of the strangest on record.

Driven from the home of a daughter near Wallace, by fire, Rolley walked to Green Bay to stay with a son. The trip of 95 miles was too much for him, and he laid down to die.

Now it develops, with ample proof, that Rolley was 104 years old, having been born in Belgium in 1802. He saw in the distance the battle of Waterloo. He fought in the civil war, and helped build the Beaumont hotel, at Green Bay, as a stone mason, and lived to see the blackening ruins of it. He helped also to build the old Brown county jail, and the chapel at Robinsonville, where the Virgin is said to have appeared. Burial was at Cago, Wis.

TO HONOR DIVINE OF HALF CENTURY

REV. HENRY COLEMAN TO BE REMEMBERED

ENNERED MINISTRY IN 1857

Upon Graduation from Lawrence University He Took Up Work with Methodist Church

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—A well defined movement is on foot among eminent clergymen of the Methodist-Episcopal church in the Wisconsin conference, which meets here next week, to honor Dr. Henry Coleman, D. D., pastor of Simpson church of Milwaukee, who next year completes his fiftieth year of service as a minister in the Wisconsin conference.

The Wisconsin conference next week will elect four delegates to the general conference of the church which will convene in Baltimore next May. Many members of the Badger conference are now endeavoring to secure the election of Rev. Dr. Coleman as one of these delegates. It is felt that it would be a fitting thing if his long service could be concluded by the honor of electing him to the general conference.

Dr. Coleman entered the ministry soon after graduating from Lawrence University of Appleton, with the first class, in 1857. He has been presiding elder of the Milwaukee district, pastor of Grand avenue Methodist church, and held other prominent appointments, as well as having the record of being twice elected to the general conference.

PADDLE PASTOR ON BIRTHDAY SCARE HIM

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Sept. 21.—The Rev. Thomas Livingston, pastor of the North Congregational church, received a sound drubbing after the prayer meeting from about fifty young members of his congregation. The young people entered the parsonage and secreted themselves. All were armed with shingles, and when their pastor entered he was set upon and a shingling was given him that he will not soon forget. The minister fought off his assailants until it dawned upon him that it was his birthday and he took the drubbing god naturedly.

WAIT 35 YEARS; ARE WEDDED THEN

MASON CITY, Ia., Sept. 21.—After a wait of thirty-five years, in which they were ever constant, the marriage of Mrs. Alice Barker, of this place, to G. B. Lane, of Manchester, occurred here. They were sweethearts in youth, back at Rockford, Ill. Lane left for the coming west, with the promise to return for his bride. Trouble arose and soon both were married. Now, both free again, old love revives. Lane is a rich farmer and stock raiser.

BADGER BRIEFS

BRILLION, Wis.—The 2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aberd of Maple Grove fell into a cistern and was drowned.

BURLINGTON, Wis.—The business done through the postoffice is sufficient to entitle the city to a mail delivery, and Postoffice Inspector Ralph W. Pird was here making arrangements to that end.

BRILLION, Wis.—The barn of Hans Hansen was struck by lightning and burned, together with the season's crop of grain and hay. Lightning killed a blooded cow on the farm of John Kleiber.

PEWAUKEE, Wis.—Burglars entered both the Savoy hotel and the postoffice Thursday night. At the Savoy hotel quite a large sum was obtained, but they succeeded in getting only about 75 cents in stamps at the postoffice.

GREEN BAY, Wis.—August H. Fisher narrowly escaped death under the wheels of a Milwaukee train, being found by the brakeman of a train, who stumbled over the body while running ahead of a moving train to flag a crossing. The engineer was signaled and the train stopped within a few inches of the body.

WAUPACA, Wis.—The experimental station of the state university has a display for potato growers at the Waupaca county fair, on Sept. 25 to 27, showing results obtained by the department in using Bordeaux and home arsenic mixtures for the prevention of blight, which at present is destroying a large part of the crop.

WAUKESHA, Wis.—The fall term of Carroll college began on Wednesday with an unusually large number of new students. The opening chapel exercises were held on Wednesday, when President Carrier gave an address to the students. A happy feature of the opening day was a reception for the lady students at the president's home, at which the Young Women's Christian association girls were hostesses.

MENOMONIE, Wis.—The total dairy products of Dunn county for the year ending Sept. 1, 1907, was $600,000, as against $50,000 for the same period ten years ago. Of this amount $183,000 was paid for butter made on the farm, $13,000 for cheese, and the balance for creamery butter. This does not include the consumption of dairy products by producers. There are now sixteen creameries, three cheese factories, and 10,000 cows in the county.

A Good Start
is Half the Race

The best start toward a successful day is a dish of delicious, wholesome Grape-Nuts food and cream, for breakfast.
The crisp, firm, "nutty" granules indicate firm flesh and crackling good humor. Its food value lies in the stored-up energy and tissue-repairing material in whole wheat and barley, so prepared by slow heat and moisture and subsequent thorough baking, that "all there is" in these cereals is retained and made perfectly digestible.
Let the meat go for breakfast and supper, take on Grape-Nuts in its place, and
YOU WILL FEEL
LIKE A NEW PERSON
A breakfast of Grape-Nuts and cream, toast, and a cup of well-made Postum Food Coffee, will put you away ahead of the meat eater at the start of the day's business, and his handicap will only increase the "gap" as the hourly "laps" are made.
By noon, lunch will be relished and the digestive organs in fine condition to give you a good send-off for the rest of the day, and the thrill of a steady nerve and a success-winning brain.
It's an easy matter for the man who "gets tired between meals" to prove that there's a reason for

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.
The following article from a Denver, Colo. paper, of which we made mention some time ago, with a detailed account of the golden wedding of former townspeople, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hanscome, will be read with interest by their friends in the city:
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hanscome celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last evening at the home of their daughter, Mrs. F. W. Herbert, 1356 Josephine street. Children, grandchildren and old friends rendered the memorable occasion a happy one.
The beautiful lawn of the Herbert home was transformed into a veritable fairyland with Japanese lanterns.
Under the trees were delightful tetea-tete and smoking corners. In the house golden rod and yellow dahlias nodded brightly from every nook and corner.
Before a bank of palms in the parlor stood the receiving line of three generations, Mr. and Mrs.
Hanscome, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert and their three young daughters, Katherine, Lucia and Marion Herbert.
Miss Hanscome of La Crosse, Wis., the sister of Mr. Hanscome, also helped welcome the guests. When the wedding march had been played Mr. Andrew W. Gillette made a happy little address, congratulating the couple. Then a poem written and dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Hanscome by the Rev. Edward S. Best, who married them a half century ago in Boston, was read by Mr. Luman M.
Bogue.
On the table on the lawn the 10-pound wedding cake was cut and distributed among the guests.
Mr. and Mrs. Hanscome received enough flowers to fill a greenhouse in addition to many valuable gifts.

LAD SWEEP FROM CAR ON THE BRIDGE
JAMES BROWN HAS NARROW ES-CAPE FROM DEATH
WAS CLINGING TO PLATFORM
In the Crowd of Carnival Goers and Accident Came Near Resulting
Very Seriously
James Brown, a well known south side boy, narrowly escaped being crushed to death between a street car and the bridge across the La Crosse river at the lower end of the causeway.
The accident occurred about 8:30, just at the time that the cars were filled to overflowing. Young Brown in the company of his brother, Will,
was clinging to the outside of the car. As they neared the bridge no attention was paid to the closeness of the girders and he was swept from the side of the car without a moment's warning. His brother was also hurled off, but in some manner escaped injury.
The car was stopped and the young man was taken to the office of Dr.
Sutor on the North side. After a careful examination it was discovered that no bones were broken, but that he was seriously bruised about the head and hips. He was escorted to his home on the south side by friends.

PASTOR BACK
FROM EUROPE
The Rev. T. T. Hoverstad, pastor at the Trinity Lutheran church on Avon street, returned last evening from a four months' trip abroad.
During his trip the Rev. Hoverstad visited all of the principal cities in Europe.
Most of his time was spent in Norway, where he visited his mother, brothers, and sister. He reports a very pleasant as well as instructive trip.
A reception was given him last evening in the parlors of his church.
Speeches of welcome were made by the different members of the congregation and were responded to by the pastor. A selection was sung by the choir after which refreshments were served.
The services will be resumed tomorrow, the first being held at 10:30.

BANNER CROWD
ATTENDS CARNIVAL
MORE THAN SIX THOUSAND ON THE STREETS
LAST NIGHT MAY EXCEED THIS South Side Sends Large Part of the Delegation; Company Goes to Ottumwa, Ia.
Last night, without a doubt, showed the largest attendance at the carnival this week. The streets were filled to overflowing from an early hour in the evening to a late hour at night. It is the opinion of the directors of the carnival that fully six thousand people were in attendance, of which number the south side contributed a greater part.
Tonight is the last night of the carnival and in all probability it will be the banner night, the crowds expected will know doubt be far greater than that of last night. The shows of the Kline carnival company are without a doubt the best that have ever been seen in La Crosse and the liberal patronage that they received last night was the only way that the citizens could show their appreciation.
From here the Carnival company will proceed to Ottumwa, Ia., where they will open for a week's stand.
They are brought there by the Ottumwa Business Men's association.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliancy vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate woman's organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve tonic adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

CALEDONIA "COMMERCIALS" ARE S. M. BASEBALL CHAMPIONS

CITY HAS RECORD IN FANS' HALLOF FAME

BEATS CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS OF TWO WIDE SECTIONS

TEAM IS ALL HOME BOYS

Purely Amateur Organization Defeats Leaders in Northern Iowa and Western Wisconsin.

CALEDONIA, Minn., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The Caledonia Commercial are the championship baseball team of Southern Minnesota. The number of victories, and the small margin of defeat, during the season closing, form the basis of the title of Caledonia to the championship.

Caledonia has been on the baseball map for many years, placed there by Pitcher "Doc" Blake, who came here from Viroqua, Wis., in the year 1893. Blake was the hero of the town, nothing was too good for him. As the years have passed Caledonia has maintained her place in the front ranks, always supporting a team and playing against the best. Many of the players have graduated into faster company. "Mellie" Blehrud, who has pitched all over the western country, in the Northern, Iowa State and Pacific Coast and other leagues, and who is now pitching for Edmonton in the Canadian league, is a Caledonia boy and pitched his first game in her uniform. "Dave" Weida, Blake's catcher, afterwards went to Rock Rapids in the Dakota-Iowa league; Gene Boltz is now catching in the Northern league and there are others playing with the bushers.

For the last three or four years there have been no teams in this section able to make it interesting for the Commercial.

In 1906, when the Houston-Fillmore county league was organized, Caledonia won the pennant with such ease that the other teams were discouraged and the league went to pieces.

Strictly Amateur Team. The Commercial are a strictly amateur organization, drawing a cent of pay. They are all "home boys," every player being a resident of Caledonia; they are even old settlers, the shortest period of residence of any member being four years. In this particular they are unique, every other team in this section carrying 4 to 5 out of town players who are paid for their services.

The Commercial's victories this year have been many, notably the defeat of the La Crosse Athletics, champions of western Wisconsin, by a score of 6 to 0; Postville, Iowa, champions of northern Iowa, 4 to 3; North La Crosse, 12 to 3; Viroqua, 3 to 0; Onalaska, 3 to 2; Harmony, Minn., four out of five games; Spring Grove, Minn., two out of three games. The team has had its defeats, but they are not such as to be ashamed of, the Colored Gophers of St. Paul won from us, 1 to 0, the same score by which they defeated the La Crosse leaguers; Blair defeated the Commercial, 3 to 2. Winona defeated us, 2 to 0.

The team is supported and managed by the Caledonia Commercial Baseball association, composed of about 80 members, who pay an annual fee of $1 each. The last season has been very successful financially their being a balance of $350 in the treasurer's hands, and the organization hope to be able to buy and equip a ball park of their own in the near future. It's right to the championship is recognized in Spaulding's baseball guide.

the department of commerce and labor distribute literature and other information acquainting immigrants with the abuses of peonage and telling them of the localities where peonage was known to exist, counseling them to keep out of such localities and away from states whose authorities close their eyes to the brutalities of this form of slavery.

Under the immigration legislation of last session of congress, a division of information of the bureau of immigration was provided for. This division has since been established, with Terence V. Powderly as its head. It is the business of Mr. Powderly and his force to give information to immigrants as to the demand for labor in various parts of the country, in order that aliens on arrival in this country may not be obliged to become congested in cities and may not be compelled to strike out blindly for some part of the country without knowing whether employment can be obtained there. Already, Mr. Powderly's division has done a great deal of work, gathered much information, and is taking steps to put this information in the hands of newly-arrived foreigners.

May be Given Additional Powers. It is not unlikely that this division of the bureau of immigration, which is under the department of commerce and labor, will be given such additional powers as will enable it to deal with the peonage problem. It is possible that the president may determine the law already gives sufficient authority, since its purpose is in the language of the statute is to provide for the more "beneficial" distribution of aliens.

Objections Likely. No doubt objections will go up from southern states, where peonage horrors abound against such interference by the federal government. But thus far, the activities of the federal government in enforcement of the peonage law have not met with any very marked success. It is found extremely difficult to get southern juries to convict persons charged with peonage. The accused parties raise the cry of northern persecution and it is too often extremely effective. Officials of the department of justice who have probed deeply into southern peonage abuses are convinced some steps such as those suggested ought to be taken to break up the slavery that prevails in the lumber, turpentine and phosphate camps of some of the southern states.

It is pointed out that in view of the great desire of southern states for immigrants if the federal government steps in and seeks to prevent immigration to certain localities until labor conditions are bettered in those localities, the result will be that state authorities will wake up and take hold of the peonage problem with vigor. In some cases, the indifference of local authorities has arisen from their having financial interests in the carrying out of contracts and thus they have been only too willing to wink at atrocities inflicted on the slaves of the peonage system, white and black, such as were seldom excelled in the days of slavery before the war.

LONG SHEETS TO CURB DISEASE

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 21.—Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, state health commissioner, issued an order today directing that sheets in the berths of sleeping cars running through Pennsylvania hereafter must be sufficiently long to turn over at the upper end of the blanket at least two feet so as to prevent the blanket from coming in contact with the face of the occupant of the berth. The same order also directs that porters on parlor cars must not brush the clothing of passengers in the aisles of cars, but only at the end of the coach beyond the seats. This order is designed to protect the traveling public from communicable diseases.

CENT AN HOUR INCREASE IS GRANTED EMPLOYEES

END OF THE STRIKE TALK

The Street Car Employees Can Now Make as High as $76 Per Month as High as Anywhere

La Crosse City Railway company have granted conductors and motormen an increase of one cent per hour, men an increase of one cent per hour. The new schedule has already gone into effect. The raise is the result of a compromise, a 2-cent increase having been demanded.

The new scale of wages gives the new men 17 cents per hour for one year, 19 cents per hour for the second year and after the second year they will receive 21 cents per hour.

Supt. S. B. Livermore stated that the new scale of wages is satisfactory to the men and also to the officials. The men may now earn from $70 to $76 per month and this is the highest wages paid to any street railway employees outside of Milwaukee.

The question of hours will remain the same. The men do not want to divide a 17 hour day into two shifts because they could not make as much money as they can under the present conditions. The present schedule they work from 10 1-2 to 12 1-2 hours per day and this gives them an opportunity to make good wages.

WIFE TO HELP DEFEND GOIDOS

Mrs. Stephen Goidos, wife of the assailant of Joseph Smith, the victim of the stabbing affray in the Third Street House Tuesday evening, called up the central police station in this city from Milwaukee over the long distance telephone yesterday and informed the local police that she had engaged an attorney in that city who would be in La Crosse in a few days to look after the interests of her husband. The woman also inquired about the condition of Smith and when told the victim of the assault was not seriously injured she expressed relief.

Goidos is still confined at the county jail, having been unable to furnish the $1,000 bail fixed by Judge Brindley. It is expected when the attorney arrives he will make an effort to have the prisoner released.

MAKES FORTUNE BY "STICKING"

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 21.—The reputed possessor of upwards of $100,000, Charles Vogel, a former resident of Sault Ste. Marie, is reported returning to Upper Michigan with a fortune won in the Cape Nome region of Alaska. Lured to the arctic circle by advices of successive rich gold strikes, he is the sole survivor of a party of argonauts, attracted to that bleak and dismal country nine years ago. His companions long ago became discouraged and returned home. Vogel persevered, and according to mail advices from Nome, his labors have been rewarded, a find of the precious metal developing so well that he has disposed of his claim for $105,000 cash.

GAS SYSTEM IS BEING INCREASED

The La Crosse Gas and Electric company is installing a new system of gas distribution which increases its present capacity.

As delay has been experienced in receiving some of the equipment the balance is being shipped from the east by express to relieve the situation, as consumers at the ends of the system complain of low pressure at the time of heavy consumption at the noon hour.

ALL IS READY FOR GREAT FAIR

WILL BE BIGGEST IN CITY'S FAIR HISTORY

LA CROSSE DAY A "HUMMER"

Saloons Will Close in the Afternoon and Special Spring Grove Train Will Swell Crowds.

Exhibits for the big annual exhibit of the La Crosse Interstate Fair association began arriving today, while a continual stream is expected tomorrow and Monday. The grounds have begun to take on their usual hustling fair time appearance on every side.

Chief among the figures on the ground today was that of Secretary C. S. Van Auker, almost head over heels in work, but with hopes of taking next week easy. At the grounds the big blinds on all the buildings have been taken down, while many of the halls show new coats of paint, while the cattle and horse sheds have been placed in the best of condition. The roofs have been tarred, so that they will be waterproof.

Among the improvements for the accommodation of patrons is the construction of a large concrete walk or platform around the La Crosse street ticket booths, and entrance gate. In place of the heavy sand, which allowed one to sink ankle deep, the smooth walk will be there for the accommodation of patrons and visitors when the fair begins on Tuesday.

It is expected that the majority of exhibits and shows will be in place by Monday. Tomorrow will be the busy day with the arrivals of a majority from fairs, which quit yesterday and today. The work of assigning each to its proper place will fall upon the secretary, but his assistants probably will extend some help in this line.

La Crosse crowds bear the reputation of flocking to the grounds on Sunday, taking a cursory glance on what appears, and forming an opinion of the prospective fair. This year the opinion will be the best in years, for the preparations are the largest, and the number of shows and attractions already on hand, or in the railroad yards waiting to be unloaded, the greatest in several years.

All the officials of the association opine that the 1907 fair will eclipse all former efforts and make the biggest show that western Wisconsin, eastern Minnesota and northern Iowa have had this season or in several years. During the week several excursions from the districts adjacent to La Crosse will be run, insuring large crowds.

La Crosse Day. That La Crosse day will be a banner event is indicated by the following letter:

Spring Grove, Minn., Sept. 19. C. S. Van Auker, La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Sir:—Even date with this I have written A. A. Bentley, secretary Board of Trade, announcing the schedule of our trains as follows: The delayed Booster special from Spring Grove exclusively leaves here on Thursday, September 26, at 8 a. m., arriving at La Crosse at about 10 a. m. Leaves La Crosse on return trip at 7:30 p. m.

We are coming down strong. The fair is well advertised here, so it may just about depopulate Spring Grove and vicinity on that day. We will do what we can to make it a pleasant trip and see that they get the "whirl" for their money. Any suggestions from you will be received with thanks.

Respectfully yours, HENRY FLADAGER, Chairman and Sec'y Booster Club. Saloons to Close.

The La Crosse County Retail Liquor Dealers' association, through its officers and executive committee, have sanctioned and authorized that all members of their association should close their respective places of business on La Crosse day, Tuesday, September 24, from 1 o'clock to 5 o'clock p. m. Many of the members of this association have already agreed to close and no doubt that the sign will be hanging in the windows of all before next Monday, announcing that they will close on La Crosse day and aid in making it one of the banner days of the week.

FRED WENZEL TAKES ACID BY MISTAKE

Mr. Fred Wenzel, the well known Redfield street grocer, reached for a bottle of Epsom salts at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and by mistake took a dose of Oxalic acid. The mistake was noticed at once, and Dr. Evans was summoned.

The physician used a stomach pump and quickly relieved the poisoned man.

He was resting easily after supper and today is about his duties, none the worse for his experience.

BELOIT STUDENT RIOTS SERIOUS

BELOIT, Wis., Sept. 21.—Class rioting between the sophomores and freshmen of Beloit college has been worse this year than for several years, and it is expected that the cane rush this afternoon will be one of the fiercest in the history of Beloit. The first year men abducted the sophomore president, Martin H. Bunge of Eitzen, Minn., and a companion, took them eight miles into the country and there deserted them, leaving them to walk

A Convincing Experiment

Dr. Sabouraud of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with human dandruff germs, and "in between five and six weeks," says the official report of the Pasteur Institute, "the rabbit was completely denuded, in fact it had become entirely bald."

This experiment proves that dandruff is a contagious disease due to the presence of a microbic growth in the sebaceous glands of the scalp. It also proves that unless the formation of dandruff is stopped—by destroying the dandruff germ—that it will lead to falling hair and incurable baldness.

REV. SALOME IS BACK FROM WEST

The Rev. Phillip Salome, Syrian Catholic emissary who has traveled all over the globe, and has recently had charge of the construction of the church of "Our Lady of Lourdes" on the north side, is again in La Crosse where he will make his permanent home.

He has been on an extended business tour throughout the western states, New Mexico, California and Vancouver, collecting funds with which to continue the construction of the palatial little church on Mill street.

The work is now expected to be completed within the next five weeks. Rev. Salome would have been home sooner but was ill for seventy days at Los Angeles.

He will reside on the north side at 812 Caledonia street, and after the church has been completed will hold services there regularly every Sunday, devoting his time during the week to the smaller surrounding cities where many of his people reside. He paid a visit to Bishop Schwabach this afternoon. While on his tour he visited the bishops of all the important western cities and reports a very successful and pleasant trip which was alone marred by his illness at Los Angeles.

"DOPE" SMUGGLED TO JAIL INMATES

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—That prisoners in Cook county jail receive supplies of demoralizing drugs—morphine, cocaine, opium, and similar harmful preparations—was admitted yesterday by "Dr." Emil Brochin, the jail head nurse who has recently been under fire for practicing medicine without a license.

The "doctor" denied that he furnished the drugs, but intimated, however, that the hands of some of the jail guards were not clean.

IMPROVED WORKING CONDITIONS.

(Woman's Home Companion.)

One far reaching result for good which has followed the presence in the wage earning field of women possessing education, refinement, and strong moral character, is the betterment of the physical conditions under which their less fortunate sisters once worked.

In hundreds of stores, factories, and office buildings girls today are reaping the harvest sown five or ten years ago by intelligent women, who, upon entering the business world, resented the filthy, unhygienic, degrading surroundings then considered quite good enough for any woman who had to work for her living. These women have demanded and secured for the new generation of business girls sanitary toilet rooms, clean, properly ventilated rest and lunch rooms, sick rooms, trained nurses and matrons in department stores. These women, as inspectors of factories, have fought for and secured proper lighting of halls and stairways leading to upper floors, where the progress of young girls through darkness was interrupted by nameless indignities. These women are doing the most practical work in the campaign against child labor.

Parliamentary Language.

Representative Champ Clark of Missouri tells a story about former Representative Henry U. Johnson of Indiana.

"Mr. Johnson," he said, "was engaged in a debate with an Illinois congressman and called him an ass. This was unparliamentary, of course, and had to be withdrawn. Pursuant to the order of the speaker, Mr. Johnson said:

"I withdraw the language I used, Mr. Speaker, but I insist that the gentleman from Illinois is out of order."

"How am I out of order," demanded the Illinois man, with considerable heat.

"Probably a veterinary surgeon can tell you," retorted Johnson. This was parliamentary and went to the record."—Indianapolis News.

Say what you please about hospitality, there are an awful lot of people, who, when asked if they have company, say: No, thank goodness.

The less some people have to say the more difficult it is for them not to say it.

HAT WORKS TO OCCUPY BUILDING

The announcement has been made that the La Crosse Hat works, 515 Main street, will in a few days, move to their new quarters in the Burkhardt and Frye building on Main street between Fifth and Sixth, that has just been completed.

The La Crosse Hat works was started about three years ago in their present building by Messrs. A. A. Graef and F. P. Wenzel, who came to La Crosse from Red Wing, Minn., and since then their business has outgrown their present quarters and the new building will enable them to work on a larger scale.

Besides the handling and making of hats, a gentleman's furnishings parlor will be opened, where furnishings of all kinds will be handled. A new and complete line has been ordered. Some of the stock, consisting of ties and neckwear has been received direct from Paris.

A new brick building will be erected at the rear of the Burkhardt and Frye building, exclusively for the hat works, which will be run on a much larger scale.

The date of the opening will be announced soon.

NEW PASTOR NOT HERE TOMORROW

Rev. Cunningham appointed to West Avenue Methodist church will not be in the pulpit Sunday, but Rev. Hurd will preach in the morning, and Rev. A. L. Wood of Caledonia Street Methodist church will preach in the evening. Other services as usual.

BURGLAR STOLE BATH SOAP FOUND MISSING

OTTUMWA, Ia., Sept. 21.—The home of Harvey Wray, a prominent business man of Bloomfield, was entered while the family was away, and here is what was missed when Mr. Wray returned home and searched the house:

Several gallons of cold water. Ditto of hot water. A general coating from the bar of toilet soap.

Tidy arrangement of bath room and bath tub.

But in exchange here is what the burglar left in the house.

A tub full of black water. A coating of mud in the bottom of the tub.

A form silhouetted on the towel, too blurred, however, to afford identification of the intruder.

The burglar had taken nothing but a bath.

EASY TO DO THE RIGHT: LANDIS

HAMILTON, O., Sept. 21.—Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, of Chicago, who was born here, spoke at the annual reunion of the Thirty-fifth Ohio Regiment, of which his father, Dr. Abram Landis, was surgeon. His brothers, Congressman Charles B. Landis of Indiana and Dr. John Landis of Cincinnati, were present. Judge Landis was given an ovation and promised to attend every year hereafter.

In his speech Judge Landis said: "It is easy for a man to be a good civil officer today. This talk about the courage required is what Sherman called 'poppycock.' All a man has to do is to find out what is right and then do it."

NEW HUSBAND

Quite an Improvement on Old One. "I have been compeller to stop drinking it," I said to a friend who asked me to strengthen up on a cup of her good coffee. "Well," she said, "that needn't bother you, for I have Postum Food Coffee here, which completely cured a friend of mine of sick headaches."

"I tried her coffee and it was very good, but when I tried to make it at home, I was disappointed. I soon found that I was not making it correctly, but by putting in two heaping teaspoonfuls of Postum for each person and letting it boil twenty minutes it was delicious."

"I had at that time been an invalid for several years, but did not know my trouble was caused by coffee drinking, of which I was very fond. I immediately began to feel better after leaving off coffee and using Postum, and stuck to it."

"One day I met a lady who was troubled the same as I was, and whose appearance on the street really shocked me, for she was so emaciated. She exclaimed in surprise at my improved appearance, and wanted to know what I had been doing. She asked me if I had had a healer of any kind. I said, 'Yes, I have allowed Postum Food Coffee to work the almost complete miracle of curing me.'"

"My husband has been absent from home for some time, and has been in wretched health, having been in the hospital twice for indigestion. I wrote him to stop using coffee and try Postum—told him also just how to make it. Yesterday I received a letter from him in which he says, 'I am feeling very much better, thanks to you and Postum. I sleep better, eat better, and in fact, my dear, am quite an improvement on the old husband.' "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs is seeking to have a transfer to Mr. Eckstein set aside.

Incidentally, the institution of the proceedings recalls one of the most celebrated murder cases ever known in this part of the state. John Wellner, a wealthy farmer, was assassinated on the night of Dec. 31, 1898, and when his body was discovered his wife told a story to the effect that the house was entered by masked men, who bound her to a chair and killed her husband. Within a year she was married to Frank Tanke, who had been employed as a hired man by her first husband, and in October, 1901, they were arrested charged with the crime.

Tanke Near Gallows.
Tanke's first trial, with Congressman C. R. Davis, as prosecuting attorney, began in this city in February, 1902, but came to an end when one of the jurors went violently insane. A change of venue to the Sibley county district court was taken, and when Tanke was tried at Henderson he was found guilty of murder in the first degree.

The convicted man was taken into court on July 1, 1902, and sentenced to be hanged, but on the same day his wife made a sensational confession, declaring that she alone was responsible for the killing thus completely exonerating her husband. She was sentenced to life imprisonment, but her confession secured a new trial for Tanke. The third trial took place at St. James in March, 1903, when Tanke was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

Mr. Eckstein defended the woman and her husband in the three trials, and on July 5, 1902, shortly after her husband's first conviction, she transferred her undivided interest in the Lafayette farm to the lawyer. The property consists of 235 acres, and is valued at $12,250. Mrs. Tanke had a life equity in the home, instead of eighty acres, and an undivided one-third interest in the remaining 155 acres.

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Sept. 21.—A strange accident occurred in the town of Erhards Grove, R. P. Knobel, a prominent farmer there, being terribly injured by the explosion of a cream separator.

Mr. Knobel was standing beside the separator, which was operated by means of a small gasoline engine, when it suddenly burst into a hundred pieces. A heavy piece of casting struck him in the head, breaking the skull in two places and exposing the brain. He was still alive at noon yesterday, but had been unconscious since the accident, and there is little or no hope of his recovery.

Knobel's wife was holding up a pan which she had been washing, and this protected her face from serious injury by the flying missiles, but his oldest son was struck in the back and was seriously injured. Investigation fails to show the cause of the accident.

The interesting point arises in the case of Jacob Klossner, Jr., guardian of Rose and Hilda Wellner, minor children of John Wellner, who was murdered in Lafayette township nearly nine years ago, against Jos. BABY TORTURED FOR 6 MONTHS

By Terrible Itching Eczema—Face and Head a Solid Sore—Spread to His Hand and Legs—Would Scratch Until He Bled—Tiny Sufferer Immediately Relieved and

"When my son Walter was three weeks old, eczema appeared on his face. We did not know what it was so went to a doctor who treated him for three months. Then he was so bad that his face and head were nothing but one sore and his ears looked as if they were going to fall off, so we tried another doctor. He said he could cure him, and we doctored there four months, the baby never getting any better. His hand and legs then had big sores on them and as for his sleeping, we could not think of it, the poor little fellow suffered so terribly. First I tied his hands to the crib to keep him from scratching, but when it got so bad I tied him in a shawl or he would scratch himself all bloody. When he was seven months old we tried a set of the Cuticura Remedies. The first application of Cuticura let him sleep and rest well, in one week the sores were gone but it stayed red and sometimes it would itch so we used Cuticura for two months, then he had a clear and white face. Now he is two years and seven months old and has never had eczema again. I hope this letter will help some who are suffering from skin disease. Every mother who has a baby suffering with skin disease should just try Cuticura; there is nothing better. Mrs. Louis Beck, R. F. D. 3, San Antonio, Tex., Apr. 15, '07."

A single set of Cuticura Remedies is often sufficient to cure torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, and scaly humors, eczemas, rashes, and irritations, from infancy to age, when all other remedies fail.

1908 WILL BE BIG FOOTBALL SEASON

SUCH IS THE OPINION OF FAMOUS COACH

STAGG BACK TO CHICAGO

Returns From Summer Rest With Optimistic Views and Predicts Monster Success This Year

1908 will be the greatest season in the history of football if the predictions of Director A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago are true. The Maroon coach has just returned from a summer resort at Battle Creek, Mich., where he spent the most of the summer.

Soon after his arrival he ventured the prediction that the season at hand will be "the greatest in the history of football."

He anticipates a greater development of the game and says that he believes that much more interest will be manifested in the college game this year than ever before.

Forward passes will be used almost exclusively, he believes, and with a certainty that will make the long throws and plays which seemed to complex last season a success. Every team in the west, as well as east, will give itself over to the new game or be lost in oblivion, he figures. For his own team he has some advanced ideas.

Chicago's chances on the gridiron were held by the coach to be "no better than last year." He says he lacks the material with which to make a fight for each position on the eleven a real contest. From the standpoint of veteran material, he made the statement that "both Illinois and Purdue are better off than Chicago."

Coach Is Optimistic.

"I am certain the game this fall will be the greatest in its history," Stagg said. "I was told time and again early last fall that the game of football was dead. I did not think so myself, but I was uneasy. However, the interest which seemed on the wane was renewed when the season once got going."

"Opening up the game, as many of the western teams did last fall, with the brilliant forward pass, delighted those who thought the game had been 'smashed.' They had their eyes opened, and although nothing was done last year in the way of forward passes in comparison with what I believe will be done this year, the interest at least will begin where it left off last year."

"It is my opinion that the forward pass will be used almost exclusively this fall. I think the play can be worked in such a way that the great danger and uncertainty which accompanied the play last year will be well nigh eliminated. I anticipate expert, accurate handling of the ball, and I believe the spectators will be surprised at what can be done."

"I feel that the game with this new element in it will be better than ever, and consequently I think the people will like it better in every way. So far as the game itself is concerned I am certain it will be vastly superior to the old sport—even far better than the game as shown last year."

"What are Chicago's chances? Well, that is problematical. I think they are not any better than at this time last year. I mean our team will not be any better than the Maroon eleven last year. Our material will come from only two of the four classes—the sophomore and junior."

"We will be shy on material. This much is certain. There are not enough men of caliber to make a fight possible for every position. When there is a fight on for every position then there is what I would call an ideal condition of affairs. I hardly believe we will have enough for two good teams this year."

"From the standpoint of veteran material I think both Purdue and Illinois are better off than Chicago. This is what I gather from reports so far."

"I do not say Purdue and Illinois will have better teams, for I don't know what new men these colleges will have to fill out the team."

"One thing in the football situation this fall is it has been a long time since all the western teams have been so evenly matched. I think no team has a conspicuous advantage at this time. But of course the season is just about to open."

Stagg reiterated that there is not the slightest possibility for a game between Chicago and Michigan this fall.

TEXAN LOSES HIS CASH AND MEMORY

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 21.—Alexander Stanton, a wealthy Texas rancher, who claims to be a nephew of Lincoln's war secretary, was found wandering about Nashua, his memory and his money gone. When brought here he could not remember his name, but said he knew Rev. N. L. Colby. The minister identified him, and when he spoke Stanton's name the man's memory returned. Stanton said he had sold a shipment of cattle in Chicago Sept. 2 and the last thing he remembered was getting the money, several thousand dollars, and starting out into the street. An old cut on the back of his head showed that he had been slugged.

FREE TRIPS TO CHICAGO

As advertised previously The Tribune will award, two free trips to Chicago and return to the contestant who secures the largest amount of business during the first three weeks of the contest. The third week is up Saturday night September 28th—the same evening the 2,000 extra vote offer as outlined above ends.

The winner of the two Chicago trips will be decided by the amount of business turned in up to and including next Saturday but the decision will not be made public until the close of the contest proper—Oct. 26th. At that time the trips will be awarded and a detailed statement issued as to the amount of business turned in by each aspirant the first three weeks of the contest.

You Don't Need to Poll Your Votes to Win These Chicago Trips.

The decision will be made from the duplicate vote stubs as held by The Tribune Company. The candidate having the largest published vote Sept. 28 may not be the winner of the trips as some one else may turn in more business than she and reserve the votes, which is fair and square.

All Votes Issued During the Special Offer Outlined Here Are Good Until the End of the Contest, October 26th.

The Extra Vote Offer As Outlined Above Will Not Be Repeated. It Is For One Week Only (Sept. 23 to 28 Inclusive) Make The Very Most Of It.

TRYING DAYS ON JUDGE J. J. FRUIT

NOISE AND POOR ROOM CAUSE MUCH DISSATISFACTION

CAN SCARCELY HEAR LAWYERS

And Auto Garage and Street Cars Combined With Teams and Heat Make it Worse.

These are trying days for Judge Fruit, and the officers of the circuit court.

With a street car line on Fourth street, another on Third street, each a portion of the south side loop of the north side line, an auto garage, to set up a continual zip and bang, and poor acoustic qualities of the court room itself, the judge is forced to exert himself to the utmost to hear the testimony of witnesses, while attorneys and the court reporter or stenographer are called upon to ask witnesses to repeat.

During the hot days of last week, the condition became almost unbearable. With the atmosphere exceedingly humid, and the sun high, it was necessary to keep the large windows of the court room open, or suffer terribly with the heat. When the windows were open, the continual banging at the auto garage, and the chug chug of the street cars passing every few minutes served to disturb the court, and also perplexed the attorneys. It was usually when a witness was answering a question having an important bearing on a case, that whirr of noise from the outside started with renewed vigor. Then came the painful lapse, till the noise stopped, when the witness was allowed to answer.

Court officials hope that an electric fan, sufficient to keep the atmosphere of the court room in motion, that the windows may be closed, will be installed by the county board of supervisors. It is probable a request to this effect will be made at the next meeting of the board.

BURIAL PERMIT NOT ABSOLUTE AUTHORITY

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—In an opinion to the secretary of the state board of health today Attorney General Gilbert decided the issuance of a burial permit does not give the person receiving it the absolute right of removal.

In the case in question a woman had been buried 11 years. A husband and daughter are living and the husband has not been heard from for five years. The question asked is if the body can be moved without the consent of the husband.

"I know of no law which obliges you to inquire into and determine the respective rights of parties having or claiming to have interests in a body or the place where the same may be interred," says the opinion. "The consent and permit provided for in the statute does not, I take it, give the person receiving the same an absolute right of removal. Any removal made pursuant thereto, would, in my opinion, be subject to the rights and interests of others in and to the body and the cemetery lot."

Fred Richardson and wife for a few days.

Will Richards of Norwalk was a business caller in this city, this week.

H. J. Cohen, the local agent of the American Express company, has been removed to La Crosse, where he will be cashier in the company's office. The vacancy caused by Mr. Cohen's promotion will be filled by Gus A. Bronson of Oshkosh. Mr. Bronson comes highly recommended.

"As Told in the Hills" played at the Armory last night to a medium sized audience.

B. M. Wallace has sold his billiard room in the Knudson block on Oak street to Herman Falk, who took possession Monday.

The Sparta concert band will give an open air concert at the North park next Sunday afternoon. This will in all probability be the last of the open air concerts for this season.

Fred Marks was brought before Justice Kelley on a charge of selling liquor to a minor, Hasson Hall. The case will probably be decided at the next term of court.

SUNSHINE NEEDED
TO RIPEN THE CORN

HEAVY RAINS HAVE INTERFERED WITH THE HARVEST

OAT CROP IS VERY LIGHT

Weight of the Grain Has in Some Instances Been Less Than Half of That of Last Season

The local market is stationary today.

The heavy rains in this section of the state during the past week have interfered to a great extent with the work of the farmers and their crops. The harvest is somewhat delayed on this account, but a few warm days will help the crops greatly, especially in ripening corn.

New oats are coming to the local market and are reported to be very light. In some instances they weigh but forty pounds to the sack while last year at this time 100 pounds to the sack was not uncommon.

CHI. MARKETS

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—The wheat market has been of a scalping character today, opening rather weak and 1/2c lower on lower Liverpool cables and a trifle weaker feeling in the northwest. Trade has been rather light and confined almost entirely to the professional element. Underneath, however, is one of good strength and the close about last night's figures. Northwest reported frosts in parts of North Dakota with killing frost at Devils Lake. These reports had the effect of firming the market. Continental cables are higher. Northwest receipts were 365 cars against 706 cars a year ago. Chicago received 161 cars, with 227 cars estimated for Monday. The conservative leaders in wheat are looking for higher prices for that cereal and are urging their friends to buy it on all reactions. Wheat tonight closed almost 30 cents per bushel higher than a year ago.

Corn has been quiet with slower trade and prices at close show a small decline from yesterday. Receipts today 653 cars, with 1,045 estimated for Monday.

Oats firm with near futures some lower and the distant futures higher. Trade small.

Provisions dull and prices shade lower. Hogs at the yards steady; 34,000 hogs estimated for Monday.

DOUGH DAY IN NEW YORK.

(Free Press.)

According to the New York Sun a big share of the $200,000 raised by Mr. Edward H. Harriman to save New York for Roosevelt and Higgins in 1904, was turned over to the county chairman of the state "to appease" them.

On Oct. 31, eight days before election, known for a generation as Dough Day in the state, $200,000 of the $260,000 raised by Mr. Harriman was turned over to Chairman Odell for use in the state of New York. There were sixty county chairmen to be appeased, sixty county chairmen not accustomed to disappointment on Dough Day.

If this suggestion carries conviction to Mr. Alton B. Parker, a candidate for the presidency at that time, it should appease the indignation of that estimable, although weakish sort of gentleman, who has often declared his belief that the money was used to purchase voters with. It should mollify the judge to learn that it was only by "appeasing" the republican county chairmen of the Empire state that they could be induced to take their state out of the doubtful list.

There was nothing corrupt in the use of money by the republican national committee to appease its own friends, was there?

INCREASING AREA OF U. S.

(Leslie's Weekly.)

The area of the United States will be increased by something like forty square miles on the completion of the new survey of the boundary between Alaska and Yukon territory, which is now being made by Thomas Riggs, Jr., and his American assistants, in conjunction with a party of Dominion government engineers.

The line originally located in 1904, in accordance with observations on the moon's position, has been found to be about 350 feet too far north. The rectification of the error, by means of observations of the stars, will give the United States a strip of that width between 500 and 600 miles long. The relocation has thus far been accomplished without any dispute, the Americans and Canadians working together in friendly fashion. The part of the line already surveyed runs through almost uninhabited territory, although it has been prospected.

Next year, when more populous districts are reached, some Canadian citizens may find themselves, by its relocation, under the jurisdiction of the United States. E. F. Tawney, the son of the Minnesota congressman, is a member of the American surveying party.

Paul W. Bartlett's equestrian statue of Lafayette will be unveiled in Paris in October, without ceremony.

Birthday anniversaries were celebrated at long ago as the time of the Pharaohs.

TEN KILLED WHEN
MINE LIFT DROPSNINE MEET INSTANT DEATH;
ONE DIES LATER

BACKS OF THREE BROKEN

Brake Fails to Hold, and Cable Breaks When Passengers of Hoist Attempt to Check

NEGAUNEE, Mich., Sept. 21.—Nine men were instantly killed, one died last night and five were fatally injured when a cage plunged 700 feet down the shaft of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company mine, the hoisting drum and brake failing to work.

The Dead.

CHARLES KENT, underground captain.

ALFRED J. WILLS.

JOSEPH RODDA.

MATT LIND.

JOHN AHO.

JOHN CHERI.

THOMAS BLIGHT.

ANTONIO CURTO.

JOHN JOHNSON.

WILLIAM HYARENEN.

One Dies Later.

William Hyarenen died in the hospital tonight.

Samuel Stevens, Alfred Jewell and Thomas Roberts, who suffered broken backs, are dying. Two others probably can not recover.

The only man who escaped grievous injury of the sixteen carried down with the falling cage is George Sebastiano. Presence of mind saved him. Realizing what had happened he seized hold of a rod at the top of the cage, pulled his feet from the floor and awaited the shock as the car struck the bottom of the mine.

Recalls Accident of 1902.

The accident is the worst that has occurred in any mine in the city since the cage at the Negaunee mine Jan. 7, 1902, entombing ten men.

Shortly before 7 o'clock, the cage left the surface loaded with sixteen men aboard. The cage had only gone a few feet when the brake on the hoisting drum suddenly failed to hold. Two other men sprang to the assistance of the one at the brake wheel, but their combined efforts did not avail and the wire cable continued to unreel from the drum.

Cable Breaks Under Strain.

The cage shot down a couple of hundred feet before a kink in the too rapidly paying out of the cable caused it to part and from that point the cage had a sheer drop to the bottom of the shaft. The safety catches with which it was equipped failing to operate the surging of the cable in its flight tore out part of the side of the engine house and ripped out several of the sheaves in and about the shaft house.

TWO THIRDS VOTE TO RULE COMPANY STOCK

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Attorney General F. L. Gilbert has decided that two-thirds of all the capital stock of a corporation may amend its articles or increase or diminish its capital stock. The opinion recognizes that dangerous precedents may be tried under such an interpretation, but nothing to the contrary could be found in the law.

Our statutes provide that articles of incorporation may be amended by a vote of two-thirds of all the capital stock outstanding," decides the attorney general. "This language seems to me to be plain. I do not see how it could be construed to mean two-thirds of the common stock and two-thirds of the preferred stock. I think it should be interpreted to mean two-thirds of all the stock taken together. It is true that under this interpretation, the owners of one class of stock might control the stockholders' meeting, much to the detriment of the holders of the other class of stock. However, I am unable to find any authority for an interpretation other than would be commonly given to the language of the statute."

Once Upon a Time.

Once upon a time there was a young woman and she wandered through the beautiful world, looking about her with her big beautiful eyes. She was seeking happiness.

Then a poet met her.

"Do you possess happiness?" she asked him.

"Yes," said he, and she went with him to share his happiness.

He took her into his realm, and gave her all his treasures, proud, lofty castles and purple garments. He showed her the glories of the sunrise and the splendors of the sunset and then he placed a little gold crown on her head.

"What else am I to have?" she asked after a little while.

"I have given you my all," he answered.

"All?" said she surprised, and departed to seek happiness elsewhere.

Then she was met by a tall man with a great red beard and blue eyes.

"Do you possess happiness?" she asked him.

"Yes and no," said he and kissed her. So she went with him, and whenever she asked about happiness he kissed her again, saying: "Yes and no." And at the same time he smiled mysteriously.

Her thoughts dwelt upon the answer and she remained with him always, waiting for him to give her happiness. But the man always answered by a kiss and a smile.—Hans Winand in Transatlantic Tales.

BEWARE BACHELORS

THOUSAND ENGLISH
GIRLS ON MAN HUNT

Big Liner Starts Crowded to Guard Rails

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 21.—The big Atlantic liner Baltic, which sailed for New York carried 1,000 young women who are going to the United States to seek husbands.

Several hundred more marriageable young women sailed on two other liners from this port today.

The rush of English, Scotch, and Irish girls to the United States in quest of husbands is unprecedented in the history of ocean traffic.

Rush to Get Home.

The anxiety of Americans abroad to rush home, resulting in the crowding of steamers to their utmost capacity, was well illustrated in the case of the steamer Baltic. Every available place aboard the liner was taken, and the special trains which left London for this port established the season's record for the number of passengers they carried. Among the passengers are Dr. and Mrs. Parkhurst, who have been abroad for over four months, mostly in Switzerland. Dr. Parkhurst said he had kept in touch with American affairs through the newspapers. Speaking of the advisability of dispatching a fleet to the Pacific, he said:

"It is all right to be a fighter when fighting is necessary, but to go around with a chip on your shoulder is a poor policy that is sure to lead to trouble, for it is a human desire to knock the chip off. I am not a believer in this offensive attitude of President Roosevelt. It is too provocative."

throw at the polls. It is pointed out that the president himself has refused to countenance that equivocation of well meaning friends—notably Senator Browne of Oregon—who would seek to sidestep the third term bugaboo by calling it his "second elective term."
